Working for waterways

The Boyne Valley Lions Club, in conjunction with the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council and Project WAVE (Watershed Action Volunteer Experience), recently teamed up for a project to place decals with the message “Don’t Pollute Drains to Waterways and Drains to Rivers” on all storm water drains in Boyne City. In all, nearly 550 decals were applied across the city. Here, Boyne Valley Lions Club members Gow Litzenburger (front) and (back row, from left) Peter Moss, James Richman and Mike Wagner, hold examples of the labels used in the project.
