fer McKay, policy director of the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council, on recently being appointed by Gov. Gretchen Whitmer to serve on the Great Lakes Commission.

The Great Lakes Commission works to address issues of common concern, develop shared solutions and collectively advance an agenda to protect and enhance the region’s economic prosperity and environmental health.

Other appointees include Marc E. Smith of Ann Arbor, James P. Clift of Lansing, and Kara Cook of Lansing. The rest of the Michigan delegation to the commission are Attorney General Dana Nessel, former state Sen. Tom Casperson and commissioner Candice Miller.